BIG AUTO CONTEST WILL END TONIGHT

MANY WITNESSES CALLED BY JURORS TO GIVE TESTIMONY IN LYNCHING CASE

First Evidence Paves Way for Sweeping Investigation Beginning Monday

TWO ARE TAKEN TO CAPITAL FOR QUIZZING

Funeral of William Beard Held at Natural Bridge Friday Afternoon

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 15.—The jury empaneled by Coroner A. B. Legg at Jasper in the investigation into the killing of William Beard, striking coal miner charged with the murder of Private Morris of the National Guard last December, who was taken from the Walker county jail early Thursday morning and shot to death by a masked mob, has summoned a large number of witnesses to appear before it. The investigation will open at ten o'clock Monday morning. A number of witnesses already examined by the jury are said to have paved the way for picking up clues and it is considered significant that other witnesses are to be brought to Jasper Monday.

As a matter of precaution the military authorities announced that every member of the State Guard who is away from the strike zone on furlough has been called back by the offices of General Steiner, commanding officer, and will be placed on duty again.

Leslie West, the taxicab operator who was taken into custody Thursday afternoon, and one member of Company M, National Guard, after being quizzed by General Steiner, are in Montgomery today where they will be questioned by the attorney general.

Although Jasper was quiet and business was going on as usual, considerable feeling is said to prevail throughout Walker county.

The funeral of William Beard at Natural Bridge Friday afternoon was attended by a large crowd. A reward has been offered for the arrest and conviction of the men who killed Beard. Four hundred dollars has been raised for that purpose by friends of the dead man. It is said the state and the sheriff of Walker county will be called upon to supplement the amount.

FUNERAL SUNDAY FOR C. ED ALBES WHO DIED TODAY

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:42 on the arrival of the Southern train from Washington, for C. Edward Albes, former prominent resident of Decatur, who died early Saturday at his home in Washington, D. C. after a lingering illness. The body will be taken directly from the train to the cemetery, the Knights of Pythias having charge of the service. S. W. Irvin, who was in Washington at the bedside of Mr. Albes, was expected to arrive here this afternoon.

The deceased was one of the best known citizens of North Alabama. He was a graduate of the Vanderbilt law school, but a number of years ago entered the service of the Pan-American Union and had risen to a high executive position in that great trade organization. Always a close student Mr. Albes was one of the best informed men in America on South American trade opportunities and was one of the pioneers in the expansion of our commercial relations with the nations of the continent south of us.

The deceased is survived by his wife, a daughter, Miss Julia Albes; one son, Conrad Albes, now in Spain in the United States diplomatic service.

Clara Hamon Bids Girls Get Lessons "From Her Life"

By MILDRED MORRIS

International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1921, by the I. N. S.)

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 15.—In an exclusive interview today, the first given since her return from Mexico, Clara Smith Hamon bade girls to take a moral lesson from her life.

The young woman, who will soon face a jury charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil king, and Republican national committeeman, said with emotion: "If I had my life to live over again, I would marry young and settle down in a little home with husband and baby. A girl is a fool who is dazzled by the glamor of good times and money."

"If she defies the convention of propriety, she must pay the price, and it is a cruel price, as I can testify by bitter experience."

"To defy the moral laws laid down by society is like butting one's head against a stone wall. It brings nothing but sorrow. And all I want now is to forget. To be let alone. I want to be able to appear in public again without people looking at me as if I were some strange and horrible animal. I want to begin life anew and do something worth while. I can't believe it is too late. I am young yet and perhaps I can fulfill the dreams I once had."

She would not discuss her case nor the man with whose murder she is charged, but she made clear that she had no desire for vengeance.

"I do not want others to suffer. I have no desire to defame anyone. I have been pictured as a woman who wanted money. I am not concerned about any will. I am not thinking about money. My only concern now is for my freedom and future."

POLICE OF BELIEF PRACTICAL JOKER "KIDDING" THEM

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—After maintaining a heavy guard over the customs house all night, following a telephone warning that it was going to be blown up at midnight, police officials today were of the belief that a practical joker had been "kidding" them. A special guard was still being maintained over the residences of prominent persons and over Wall street offices and public buildings today, despite the fact that there has been no attempt to wreck any of them.

Police officials are still silent as to why the buildings are being guarded.

REGULAR MEETING IS HELD BY SAFETY FIRST COMMITTEE

The regular monthly meeting of the Safety First Committee of the Louisville and Nashville shops was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the master mechanic, C. W. Matthews, who is chairman of the committee. There was a full attendance of committee members. The secretary, Lee H. Hartung, read the minutes of the previous meeting. The reports for December injuries sustained by employees of the shops were read and discussed at length. A number of suggestions were made by committee members as to how such accidents could be best avoided in the future. It was the sentiment of the committee that the hundreds of men working in the shops are being reached effectively by literature and drawings calling attention to the importance of definite effort for the prevention of injuries. Chairman Matthews read the following short admonition to the committee:

"A man who has had wide acquaintance with the causes and effects of personal injuries recently visited one of the division safety meetings, and upon invitation of the chairman spoke most interestingly of the value of the work in its possibilities of ministering to human happiness."

"He called attention to the danger that attends constantly where moving engines, cars or machinery are involved, or where quantities of heavy material are being handled."

"He asked that men might interest themselves more and more in their safety, resolving each day that they would play safe for themselves and for their fellow workmen."

"By application to this simple line of action much suffering and loss to individuals and families will be avoided."

"Damaged equipment can be replaced but life and limb cannot. He stated that investigation showed that the remedy for a great portion of the accidents to our employees is entirely within their own control, and urged all to co-operate in their efforts to reduce the loss and suffering that is imposed upon individuals and families by accidents which could easily have been avoided."

TOLLEFSON TRIO AT THE MASONIC

SECOND ENTERTAINMENT UNDER AUSPICES MILLER AND MUSIC STUDY CLUB

The Tollefson Trio, the second offering given under the joint auspices of J. A. Miller and the Music Study Club, will appear at the Masonic Theater Friday night. The trio is composed of Carl H. Tollefson, violin; Mme. Augusta Tollefson, piano; Paul Kefer, violoncello.

Musical America, a national periodical, says of the trio: "This organization has earned the right to be classed among the foremost of its kind in the country, and its work at this recital was on a consistently high level of excellence and commanded hearty applause. The placid and charming Mozart work was played with delicacy, finish and classic spirit, with much precision, smoothness and an excellent quality of tone."

The Nashville Tennessean says: "Inaugurating the fourth season of artist recitals, Ward-Belmont last night presented the Tollefson Trio in a program of wonderful beauty, rendered in a style of the highest artistic excellence. Nashville may well feel proud that they made their initial bow in Dixie in this city."

Just a Few Hours Remain Until the Great Campaign is Completed

DOUBLE VOTE ALLOWED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS TODAY

When Clock Strikes Midnight, Contest Will be Thing of History

The stage is set for the final act in the Automobile Campaign "drama," and everything is in readiness for the curtain. Promptly at midnight the doors will close and the judges will be on hand to see that the rules governing the final balloting are complied with.

The Last Day
Someone, when the clock strikes at midnight, will be richer by either of the following rewards: A $2025 Buick touring car, a Ford Sedan, a $200 Pathe phonograph, etc. These will be their rewards for meritorious service in The Daily's circulation campaign. The contestants have done earnest, loyal work and The Daily takes occasion to thank all who have taken part in the race and to thank in advance the winners of the big prizes.

Today
Today, of course, is the big day. Today means the difference to someone between an automobile and a lesser prize. Sufficient time remains to secure enough votes and subscriptions to win any of the big prizes. The race will be very close from present indications, as each and every contestant is determined to work harder during the final hours and are not going to concede the fight until the count is made. One very noticeable feature of the race from the beginning is the equal vote-getting ability of the majority of the workers. All have a chance at the main prizes. Just a few more subscriptions than you expected to get may be the ones necessary to land a winner. These subscriptions will come in today as all have their supporters and the interest in the outcome of the big race is at fever heat.

Midnight
The doors of The Daily building will be closed and locked promptly at midnight and no one will be allowed to enter and turn in subscriptions after that time. Those who are in the building at that time will be allowed to turn in their subscriptions. Don't wait until the last minute before coming to The Daily office, as there is nothing like a little leeway. Street cars are late, crowds sometime hinder and obstacles often occur. "The Pardon That Came Too Late" has furnished substance for many a heart-rending story and ballad, and votes and subscriptions that are mailed or brought to the campaign office too late will be of as much avail as the pardon was to the man that had already been taken from this earthly sphere. It will be well for those who mail their subscriptions to place a Special Delivery stamp upon the letter.

The number of votes published opposite the contestants' names are the same as they appeared at the last publication, no change being made in the standings published. It is printed again with the view of refreshing the minds of the readers of The Daily and may be a great help in deciding just who they wish to support by giving a subscription. Persons who have been watching the campaign with interest—who have friends in the race—and would like to help them win an automobile—should give that subscription before

SECRETARY COLBY'S VISIT TO SOUTH AMERICA

As good will between individuals is fostered, by full and free acquaintance, so good international feeling must depend on social and business intercourse. At bottom it was this central truth, that was responsible for the recent visit of Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby to the principal countries of South America. According to a sentiment in Brazil, expressed on the eye of the departure of Mr. Colby from that country his visit marked "a mile stone on the high way to real Pan-Americanism." Following the war fought by this country against Spain in 1898, considerable ill feeling and distrust was engendered among the Spanish speaking nations of South America, as was also the case in Mexico against this country. And there were many small nations of South America, who were easily led to believe that the great Republic to the North, if given a chance, would rob them of their independence. This false sentiment was taught very earnestly and successfully by Germans and pro-Germans before, during and even after the world war. As is so often the case good turns are easily forgotten, and the firm stand made by Grover Cleveland, against British activities in Venezuela, in the 80's seem to have been entirely forgotten by the countries of the Southern Hemisphere.

It is quite in keeping with the wise foreign policy of President Wilson, that he should have sent Mr. Colby at this time, on a mission which is bound to more firmly unite the United States and the Republics far to the South. Because Americans and South Americans live under the same form of government should make it easy for them to get together and stay together, both in a friendly and business way.

Because the shipping route between this country and South America is much shorter than it is from those nations to Europe, it will be unfortunate for all concerned if, as prior to the great war, Europe continues to supply our Southern neighbors with the major part of their manufactured goods.

No considerations of value exist, to keep the peoples of the two Americas separated. Every interest both of friendship and business demands that the Brazilian sentiment prevails and that many other mile stones be passed in the not distant future, toward the goal of a large and beneficial Pan-Americanism.

JOURNALISTIC

Announcement from Birmingham that The Birmingham Post will begin publication possibly by February 1 moves up the date of the journalistic fight which is sure to follow the entry of two newspapers in the afternoon field there.

Phil Painter, editor of The Advance, already has announced the early publication of a daily in the Magic City. It was understood that he intended to convert the present weekly Advance into a daily publication.

Thus, Birmingham will have three afternoon newspapers. The Magic City must exert her magic in large quantities if she is to grow sufficiently large to support three afternoon dailies. In her present stage, it is hard to believe it can be done. More than likely the situation will resolve itself into "the survival of the fittest." Possible two papers may be able to make a reasonable return on their investment, but it doesn't seem possible that three can in these days of high cost of newspaper publication.

During the time the fight lasts, there should be an abundance of excellent journalistic production. The Birmingham News, at present the only occupant of the field, is strongly entrenched, ably edited, with a large circulation and wide influence. The News is not to be expected to give up the fight easily.

The Advance, it is said, will have the backing of the labor forces in the Birmingham district. It is a powerful backing. In addition, it has been rumored that L. B. Musgrove is interested financially in the project. Not only will The Advance have strong support of a large percentage of the reading public in Birmingham, but, if these reports are true, it will have almost unlimited financial backing.

The Post, which will be owned and controlled by the Scripps-McRae league, will begin publication in Birmingham aided by a powerful syndicate. The league, while far from resembling the Hearst syndicate in many respects, still is accredited with having a chain of papers equally as strong.

As editor The Post will have Edward Leach, who gained nation wide fame a year or so ago when he spent several days in jail because he wrote an editorial a Memphis judge did not care for. Leach, at the time was editor of The Memphis Press. The judge claimed the editorial was "in contempt of court." It served to raise Leach several notches in the journalistic ladder, which wasn't at all what the judge intended doing.

The Advance, The News and The Post—they will make a strong line up and an array of publications of which any city might well be proud, but The Daily is unable to understand how all expect to make a living.

Through an unintentional error of omission, The Daily failed to give credit where credit was due on this page Friday. The very able editorial discussion of the immigration question should have been credited to The Nashville Tennessean.

Nobody thinks of himself as a profiteer—it is always the other fellow.

The museums should hurry up and get specimens of John Barleycorn brew or else it will be too late.

About the only thing the Russian Czar ever did that stuck, was the changing of name of his capital from St. Petersburg, to Petrograd.

If clothing prices continue to decline in the Twin Cities, it will be cheaper to dress warm than to spend the "cooled term" at the Gulf.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair
"Winter and rough weather," naturally give rise to thoughts about "contacts." And the most important physical contact just at this time of the year is your "sole leather contact" with this present earth. The heart has all it can do, without trying to keep a set of cold feet warm. If you are forming a "bad" contact with the ground below, stop it, at least until May 1st. If your feet stay cold, what doth it profit you though your upper extremities be dressed in the finest silk and wool? "Cold feet"—that expression is synonymous with "failure." Such feet certainly spell health-failure. Get some "no-leak," some rubbers, thick soles, or something, for the balance of the winter, and thus relieve your heart of the worry and exertion of trying in vain to keep two cold wet feet, dry and warm!

"Contact" is a more suggestive word than any other, perhaps. There are two kinds, bad and good contacts. Those unfortunate shifty eyed persons—they make a mighty bad contact with other personalities. But not a bit worse than those brazen fellows, who have a stupid way of exposing their eyes in order to hide their souls. Better far, hide your self behind your eyelids than behind your eye balls! In other words, those who try to look you out of countenance are more objectionable liars than those who will not put their eyes squarely in contact with their neighbor's. What makes a machine of any kind perfect, is the perfect contact of all its parts. This 17, and 23 jewel talk you hear about time pieces, has reference to perfect bearings or "contacts." These mile (or more) long trains pulled by the L. & N. are possible because every thing from the steam, to the last patent coupler on the Caboose, is in "contact."

What makes the Automobile so delightful? It is not alone its speed—it is its superior contact with the earth! The old fashioned iron wheel jarring vehicles, will never come back, mostly because their "contacts" are not right. Incidentally, it might be remembered that when ever the gas and light of the Twin Cities go out, somebody has been out of "contact," in the highest and best sense! There is no human duty that cannot be performed if our contacts are right.

If the church was in close-up contact with the enemies of humanity, church membership would mean a great deal more than it does. Paul said that he could do all things through Christ who strengthened him. Paul felt that he was in contact with his Savior. People do not have to feel that they are absolutely perfectly "good" but they can and must like to be in contact with good people and with their Maker! All attempts that our poor weak race has made, to get in touch with its Maker, whether it was through idol worship, the lowest effort, or through the highest acts of worship on the part of the most enlightened mortals—are praise worthy and commendable beyond human imagination. And because this is true, those people who make a mock of any body's worship, are not "people" in any important sense. But freedom of discussion as to what is true worship should always be welcomed. Of making applications of the very suggestive word "contacts" there is no end.

Be it sufficient to say that if, that great and good man Henry Drummond, who told the world so beautifully that "Love" is the greatest thing in the world, was right, when he defined life as "correspondence with environment," then perfect contact or correspondence with Him, who said that He is the Way, the Truth and the Life, is the one supreme good, or end to which we should aspire.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Women's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag."

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good."

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did."

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

FOR BOWLING FIVES AT "Y"; CUP TO BE AWARDED WINNERS

Meeting Held Last Night by Captains of the Eight Squads

SEVERAL GAMES WEEK IS THE PRESENT PLAN

Cup Will be Given the Individual Making the Highest Score

Final arrangements for the Y. M. C. A. Bowling League were whipped into shape at a meeting of the captains of the eight teams to contest in the bowling tournament at the Y. M. C. A. building last night.

The eight teams were represented and the tournament will begin at 7:30 Monday night with the Machinists vs. the A. T. & T. Co. The tournament will run for 13 weeks, ending April 14 at which time the winning team will be presented with a trophy. Another trophy will be given to the highest average individual which will be open to all bowlers in the city whether in the league or not. Further details about this individual prize may be obtained from Mr. Nollau at the Y. M. C. A. It is hoped and desired that many will contest for this coveted trophy. The donors of these cups will be announced shortly and the cups placed on display. The public is invited to witness these games. Four games will be played during the week as per schedule, thus giving two nights to the general public to play as well as the afternoons, which will also be open to the general public.

The high school team having withdrawn from the contest, Mr. Nollau stated that he would take immediate steps to form a junior league to encourage this healthful and good fellowship game among the younger people of the communities.

The tournament will be played in strict accord with the rules of the American Bowling Congress of America.

Captains to report in writing names of all qualified bowlers by Monday at 5 p. m. to Secretary Nollau.

ONCE UPON A TIME

A wise old man told us "that the time to buy is when other people want to sell" and "the time to sell is when other people want to buy." We know people who want to sell, and we have good reasons to believe there are people who want to buy. Mr. Buyer: this is to put you on your guard that you will never buy property cheaper in your life. Our country is right now entering a second period of inflation. History repeats itself—just after the civil war, when war prices had prevailed for four years, a process of deflation began that threatened to bankrupt the country. In order to save the country from bankruptcy, congress enacted laws that started values on an upward trend, and we get it from tradition that prices were seventeen years reaching normal again.

Lumbering mills are resuming operation, which is evidence that they believe the market has hit its lowest mark. Hardware and labor is stationary, with little prospect for a decline in either.

So don't bet your present and future happiness on prices being lower. We have desirable residences in different parts of the city, and at prices that will make renting look like extreme foolishness to you. We will sell to you and help you to buy. Let's get together!

COTTON MARKET SHOWS STEADINESS

INITIAL QUOTATIONS TODAY UNCHANGED TO TWELVE POINTS HIGHER

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Although quiet, the cotton market showed steadiness at the start today with initial quotations unchanged to 12 points higher on buying by New Orleans and wire houses with Southern connections.

Shorts also covered on bullish statistics and favorable trade reports. Wall street and trade interests were the best sellers, but up to the end of the first 15 minutes the market displayed a very steady undertone, showing at one time a net rise of about 15 points.

MASONIC THEATERNext Friday Night, Jan. 21

This is the second attraction of the season given under auspices of the Music Study club, Mrs. W. K. McNeill and J. A. Miller.

Recent Praise from the Critics:

Nashville Tennessean: "Inaugurating the fourth season of artist recitals, Ward-Belmont last night presented the Tollefsen Trio in a program of wonderful beauty, rendered in a style of the highest artistic excellence. Nashville may well feel proud that they made their initial bow in Dixie in this city."

Reginald De Koven in the New York World: "Last night that esteemed organization, the Tollefsen Trio, gave an all-Scandinavian program at Aeolian Hall, which was heard by a large audience with enjoyment. The trio, as such, played a work by Lange-Muller, which is simply and straightforwardly melodious. Of better musical value was Sjogren's sonata for piano and violin, two movements from which were played by Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen and Mr. Carl H. Tollefsen with excellent effects. Mme. Tollefsen also played as a solo Grieg's Ballade Op 24 and proved herself in this romantic and beautiful number a pianist of taste and accomplishment."

James Whittaker in Chicago Examiner: "The Tollefsen Trio is young to the eye, veteran to the ear. A more maturely accurate and youthfully graceful ensemble than that of their playing of a trio by Rubin Goldmark has not been heard."
